

Miss Mabel Worley and Miss Izola Worley entertained Saturday evening in honor of Miss Alta Young who is to be married May 24 to Mr. Arthur LeRoy Stockman of Lincoln. The house was decorated in daisy chains, these hanging from the chandeliers to the corners of the room. Little Miss Frieda Tulley, dressed as a daisy, gave a flower dance, and at intervals during the dance brought out the presents for the bride-to-be. At the game of Michigan, which was played after this Mrs. E. R. Harris won the prize. A two-course lunch was then served, which was also carried out in the daisy decorations. The place cards and the nut baskets were decorated with daisies. The guests were Misses Alta Young, Edna Benedict, Avis Joder, Vera Spencer, Hazel Snelson, Thelma Westley, Ethel Graham and Mesdames W. B. Young, Aubrey Young, Walter Bledsoe, Gail Price, E. L. Meyer, J. S. Rhein, E. R. Harris, Fred Carlson, F. J. Peterson and S. B. Wright.

Mann's concert orchestra will give a program Thursday evening, May 11, at Community hall, with Miss Nell Acheson as vocal soloist. The entertainment will be under the auspices of the Epworth league. This is the first concert in some time and should draw a large crowd. Following is the program: "Under the Banner of Victory," Frantz v. Blon. "Melody in F," Rubinstein. "Southern Stars," Archer-Mahl. "The Sunshine of Your Smile," (vocal) Lillian Ray. "Just a Wearying for You," (vocal) Carrie Jacob-Bond. "Love O'Amour," Blegier. "Spring Song," Mendelssohn. "La Sorella," Borel-Clerio. "The Little Toy Soldier," arr. Geo. Rosey.

Miss Madge Graham, Miss Vera Spencer and Miss Ida Clark will entertain at a kitchen-ware shower in honor of Miss Thelma Westley, who is to be married soon to Mr. Howard Lotspeich. The party will be only for the teachers at Central school, and the supervisors in the different departments. The color scheme will be pink and white, and sweet peas will be used for decoration. Those present will be Misses Wilson, Jeanette and Margaret McConnell, Wilcox, Nation, Abbott, Dougherty, Burwell, Crocker, Worley, Davis, Johnston and Gist, and Mesdames Kase and Dunning.

Keep an open date, Friday May 19, and attend the second annual May festival to be given by Mrs. Dunning's classes of Expression. Louise Corbett as Polly, is a poor little waif, who falls asleep in the Fairies' dell. By the touch of their wands she becomes the May Day Queen, and the celebration continues with a May pole dance, and many Spring festivities.

Mrs. J. P. Mann and Mrs. Charles Fuller will entertain this evening at the home of the latter in honor of Miss Alta Young. The party will be a miscellaneous shower. The color scheme will be lavender and white and a number of clever amusements have been provided for the evening. Invitations were sent out in rhyme to the twenty-four who will be present.

The Woman's club will meet Friday with Mrs. Ralph Beal, Mrs. Fred Carlson and Miss Opal Russell as hostesses. The subject will be "Maddonas," and the following papers will be given: "Ancient Maddonas," Mrs. Tooley; "Modern Maddonas," Mrs. Ann Smith; "The Modern Painters of Religious Subjects," Mrs. Bradbury. There will also be exhibits of different paintings.

Leonard Pate, who is attending Chadron normal, came to Alliance for the track meet Friday, and remained until Sunday.

The Alliance Country club held the first of a series of ladies' entertainments at the club house at Broncho lake this afternoon. This was a orange luncheon. It is planned to have these about once a month throughout the summer. About eighty women were expected to attend this luncheon, which was at one-thirty. The luncheon was followed with bridge. W. E. Metz, a member of the board of directors is chairman of the ladies' entertainment committee. The other members of which are Mrs. W. D. Rumer and Mrs. F. W. Harris. Entertainments of this sort have been tried by other country clubs and have proven to be decidedly popular, and there is little doubt that these will be an entire success.

The N. W. bridge club will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. L. P. Dickinson. The members of the club who will be present are Mesdames A. E. Nelson, H. A. DuBoque, B. Ponath, J. H. Standard, A. J. Cole, J. L. Hughes, R. M. Timcom, F. G. Hitchcock, J. B. Irwin, H. E. Feller, A. W. Newberg and W. B. Denton.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church will hold an apron sale at the home of Mrs. F. W. Hicks, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. Friends are cordially invited. Members are requested to bring their mite box contribution.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Huffman and family of Havelock were in Alliance Saturday and Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hargarten. Mr. Huffman, who is a nephew of Mr. Hargarten, is employed in the Havelock shops. The Huffman's returned home Sunday night.

The Knights of Columbus will hold a card party Thursday evening at their hall. This will be a revival of the card parties given before lent, and from the way in which they were received before this should prove popular. Refreshments will be served.

The American Legion will hold its regular semi-monthly business meeting and luncheon at the Palm Room of the Alliance hotel tonight at 6:30. Business matters of importance will be discussed and a large attendance is desired.

Mrs. Joe Bogan and Mrs. George Davis left Sunday for the Eastern Star Grand Chapter meeting at Omaha which opened this morning at the Mason temple in Omaha. They will return Thursday.

The person who makes the largest purchase at The Fashion between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock Wednesday, will receive her choice of any $25 dress free.

The Presbyterian ladies' aid will meet at the home of Mrs. William Eberly Wednesday afternoon. The response to roll call will be made with some quotation of "Mother."

The last of the series of Elks' dances has been postponed because of the number of other social events. It will be given sometime later in the month.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Hacker, 823 Box Butte avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2:30. This will be a business meeting.

The Episcopal ladies' guild will meet at the church house Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Percy Cogswell as hostess.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST.

Were you present and on time last Sunday? Did you have a prepared lesson? Did you stay for the preaching services? If you did all of this, you counted 15 points and helped us that much in our contest with the Scottsbluff people. We cannot let them beat us and we will not if your local pride will assert itself. Stand up for Alliance and if you are not attending any school, come next Sunday.

The young people's missionary meeting was well attended on Monday evening when Miss Wilkinson of Lu Cho Fu, China, and Miss Henry of Lincoln, Neb., addressed the meeting.

The Wednesday evening meeting will begin at 7:30. This is one of the most helpful meetings of the church. The subject is, "Mother." Mrs. Hoff, the leader, is preparing a great program. It will interest you. You will miss something good if you are not present.

The Christian church ladies have set aside Wednesday afternoon as calling day in the interest of the work.

Please come to the church at 2 o'clock for a brief prayer service. We are expecting a great number to come and assist in this ministry.

The district convention at Bayard was well attended and was one of the best that we ever attended in western Nebraska. Next year the convention goes to Scottsbluff. Mr. Epler was re-elected president of the district and Mrs. F. O. Burgess of Sidney secretary.

You will remember that next Lord's day is Mother's day. How happy we will be to greet you.

STEPHEN J. EPLER, Minister.

AT THE RIALTO.

The Rialto has received word that its Monsoon cooling system has been shipped, and it is expected to arrive almost any day. The system will be installed without delay, and should insure patrons of the theater the utmost in comfort during the hot weather. The machine is of a size sufficient to care for a building twice as large as the Rialto.

The feature at the Rialto tonight is "The Spenders," done into a photoplay from the novel by Harry Leon Wilson. The story is a modern modification of the old "badger" game—and how the prospective victim failed to come through. There's a thrilling speed duel between a fast train and a racing car, a police raid on a show girl's apartment and a cultured society girl who proves herself a wonderful good sport.

"Reckless Youth" is the attraction for Wednesday, with Elaine Hammerstein as the star. The photoplay is from a story by Cosmo Hamilton, than whom there is no more popular writer of current fiction before the public today. It is a typical Hamilton story embracing an analysis of some of the most interesting phases of modern society life. In the leading role, Miss Hammerstein appears as a young society girl, a part for which she is admirably suited.

Thursday the Rialto will show "The Barricade." Two men, Jacob Solomon, a Jew, who believes that genuine love and human sympathy beget greater happiness in the world than false pride and prejudice, and Michael Brennan, an Irishman of the same attitude, are partners in a little cigar factory in New York's East Side. They get along well together regardless of differences in religion and disposition. They lost their wives in an accident and this drew the men into closer friendship. Solomon had a daughter and Michael a son, Robert, a few years older. Subsequent developments are charged with heart interest. Solomon's fortune changes and Robert and Jane are drawn together again when the old man's theories of love and understanding triumph over false pride and prejudice.

AT THE IMPERIAL.

of humor and native pluck who starts something in a strange country, the Corsican vendetta, a solemn oath for revenge sworn by the relatives of a Corsican who has been killed in a duel; the scene in the French railway coach in which Tom Moore, alone with a beautiful English girl conquers her reserve by a ruse; the mystery of the duelling pistol that killed the Corsican; the Corsican wedding, a picturesque reproduction of one of the most romantic spots in Europe.

Wednesday and Thursday comes a Rex Bench photoplay, "The Iron Trail." One thousand men in furious battle for the possession of a few square feet of land is one of the big thrills in the picture. Not even Broadway in New York, where the real estate is more valuable than anywhere else in America, would so small a piece of ground be held so important as this nine foot patch for which a terrific fight was waged far away in Alaska, between the rival working men of Murray O'Neill and Curtis Gordon.

The big fight occurs when the Gordon gang attempts to lay the tracks of their railroad across the line being built by O'Neill. And there being no way for the O'Neill railroad to get through except by crossing this nine-foot patch of land the men line up and armed with axe handles and tools of all kinds, they charge the Gordon men, entrenched behind a barricade, and a furious hand-to-hand battle ensues.

The person who makes the largest purchase at The Fashion between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock Wednesday, will receive her choice of any $25 dress free.

"Clarence", Senior Class Play Will Be Presented Friday

The senior high school play, "Clarence," will be given Friday evening at the Imperial theatre. The play has to do with the domestic difficulties of the Wheeler family, which Clarence, the mysterious member of the cast is able to solve. The play is by Booth Tarkington, and is a Broadway success.

It is doubtful if a better play has ever been chosen before, and the cast are working hard to put it across. Most of the members of the cast have had some previous experience in high school plays, and there is little doubt that they will be able to put it across. Rowland Threlkeld, who made a hit in "Nothing But the Truth," has the part of Clarence and will of course put his part over well. Mariellen Beagle will take the part of Miss Finney the governess, and those who have seen her in other plays will know what she can do.

Mrs. Dunning, who has directed a number of highly successful plays before is in charge of this and this is an additional guarantee of the play.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

Mrs. Elizabeth Calkins, fifty-one years of age, postmistress at Abby, died at 11:30 Monday evening in Alliance at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Poole. Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock on Thursday morning from the Catholic church.

Mrs. Calkins leaves, beside her parents, a son, Louis, of Abby, and four brothers, W. J. Poole of Denver, J. L. Poole of Broken Bow, who arrived in Alliance this morning, Charles Poole of Rochester, N. Y., and A. M. Poole of Alliance. The Denver brother is expected to arrive today.

Mrs. Calkins had been a resident of Abby for nine years, and postmistress for the past two years. She had been seriously ill for a month and a half.

WELL WORTH IT

A man lay in bed while a midnight burglar broke into his house; watched him while he ransacked the place and then allowed him to depart without raising a hand to stop him. Even when a policeman arrested the intruder outside he seemed rather reluctant to make any accusation.

"What's the matter?" asked the cop. "Don't you want to see this guy go to jail?"

"Well," confessed the householder, "I wanted to see how he managed to get in so late without a key and without waking up the wife and when he managed it I sort of figured he was entitled to get away with something."
